TRACS REAFFIRMATION

Last November, we presented a tentative timeline for our TRACS reaffirmation. Through the combined efforts of many faculty and staff, we have completed the first three steps: the self-study proposal, the subcommittee assignments, and the TRACS staff visit (which we passed with flying colors!). We will submit the self-assessment later this month, and the evaluation team will visit in January. We appreciate the time that many of you have put into writing responses and documenting evidence.
